Role of sixth House, Eighth House & Twelfth House & Litigation

- The sixth house is the seat of conflict and litigation. Any planet associated with this house or lord of this house or transiting the sixth house could be a source of conflict or litigation for any one. A benefic aspect of benefice Jupiter or Venus on this house or lord of the sixth house could mitigate a lot of issues and problems and lead to success in litigation.

- The eighth House lord and eighth house are dreaded and considered to be the most malefic houses. As they generate sudden and malefic energies for strong and sudden conflicts in one's life. Also any natal planet in this house or conjunct with the eighth lord or transiting this could transmit the malefic effects
- The twelfth house similarly is the house of expenditure and confinement. If the lord of this house is badly afflicted or the house is badly afflicted to connect to the ascendant- it could even cause confinement or jail to the person concerned.

What is The Actual Status of Your Sixth, Eighth and twelfth House and lords and other planets concerned in your natal chart- based on Lagna(d1) chart and Moon chart(Chandra lagna) both?

- The lord of your horoscope is karkat or cancer sign. Moon(Chandra) is on a weak sign Gemini(the mithuna rashi is there that is ruled by mercury(budha) is combust) in the 12th bhava.

- The sixth bhava lord is Sagittarius (dhanu rashi) in the eleventh bhava- sixth bhava rules litigation and legal matters and conflicts. Jupiter sits on the Taurus sign (vrishabha rashi) ruled by Venus (shukra) in the eleventh bhava or house.
- Possible earnings through the court cases. But you also have to take care of court and convictions related matters as there is some chance of loss here.
- Jupiter (guru) would give you some protection here being a benefic. Though it could give opposition from upper caste people as such.
- Venus (shukra) the disposer is old at 28 degrees- but exalted and retrograde in the Pisces sign. The Ninth (9th) House or bhava. So gets you some blessing from your past karma in your court case/litigation matters and could help you somewhat.
- Mars or Mangal is strong but aspects your seventh bhava or job or means haste could spoil your matters. Also aspect in the fourth house of public image impacts your public image as such.
- Mercury the lord of sixth bhava in your navamsa the d9 chart sits in the seventh bhava of wealth and status and gets the blessings of dev guru Jupiter. This means GOD and past life karma would help you in the court cases.
- Jupiter being the lord of twelfth bhava would only make you spend more on court cases and legal matters.
- But due to Jupiter (guru) mostly the judgment would be mild and in your favor mostly.

Special BONUS:

- Om Namoha shivaye 108 x as many times possible
- Maha mriyunjay japam would help you a lot.
- There is a malefic aspect of moon and lagna sitting in the 12th bhava of confinement into the sixth bhava so you need to take care of chanting the above mantras regularly to avoid confinement or getting a judgment against you .
- The eighth bhava has malefic mars sitting there. The lord of the eighth bhava Saturn or shani sits in the lagna, so it makes you accident prone and also prone to punishments. unless the japams are done well at your end.

- Your 12th bhava lord is mercury or budha but blessed in the 9th bhava along with Venus the planet of comfort.

Role of Rahu & Ketu/Mars & Saturn in Litigation

- Rahu ,ketu, Mars(mangal) and Saturn are natural malefic. So apart from their being in sixth/eighth or twelfth house(especially for rahu and ketu) even presence of Saturn or mars or even ketu cause conflict situations related to the aspects related to that house.
- Like presence of Saturn or shani in the tenth house of career if not well fortified could cause career related conflicts etc.

What is The Actual Status of Saturn, Rahu, Ketu & Mars in your natal chart- Your Lagna Chart(d1) PLUS Moon Chart based analysis?

- Your 50-60 % destiny is decided by the d1 chart or the lagna chart, but you get additional information and more accuracy by use of moon chart as well in calculations. Here in the advanced legal matters report we give you additional analysis based on moon chart for a better reliability of predictions.
- Rahu sits in the 4th bhava, so could affect your public image- but not much as it is at 1 degree and much away from your lagna degree of 22:47.
- Please note rahu sits in your fifth bhava from your moon sign so impacting your image and sudden luck matters as it is weak
- But yes impact of rahu on career/mind and family is there.
- Yes Saturn is retrograde and sits in the 1st bhava ,aspects your house of relationships and job to some extent. Also Saturn(shani) rules your 8th bhava of unexpected matters.
- Retrograde Saturn sits in the second bhava from moon, so suggesting periods of loss of money and also wealth and status for you. Especially when shani or Saturn is weak in transit.
- Mars is in the 8th bhava and gathers a lot of malefic energy here, chanting of the mantras should be done regularly to pacify this and also hanuman chalisa could be done daily.

- Mars in the ninth bhava from moon sign or rashi – this aspect your first bhava, so avoid aggression to make full use of past life karma of yours.
- Aspect of mars(Mangal) on the lord of sixth(6th) house bhava of litigation is there also note this bhava is markesh from the moon and also impacts your partnerships or jobs- this could cause matters to be not so favourable or you depending on the planetary periods you are running.
- From the moon sign Saturn directly rules your litigation related matters the sixth bhava and also sits on the send bhava of yours. So clearly impacts your wealth and status due to legal matters or litigation.

Your d9/navamsa analysis

- The lord of the 6th bhava is in the 2nd bhava in d9 along with the 12th lord Jupiter or guru. Though guru blesses you- but this is not a great indication as such as 12th house rulership is there.
- Mercury rules the 9th bhava, so this brings in the possibility of good past life karma and grace flowing to you.
- Yes 8th bhava lord impacts your career and also the 4th house of bhava of public image. so this is again not a great indication.
- But as mars and Venus the lord of 4th and 10th bhava are strong so basic protection is there for you as per d9 chart, but note whatever is said in d1 chart above would dominate the effects.

The role of your dasha(periods) now

- You will be running Saturn-Venus till nov 2018. Saturn rules your job/ and also the 8th bhava of health issues and unexpected issues and aspects your initiatives and also your job again. You have in general to be careful in the maha dasha as it is your markesh as well- that does not mean any issues to longevity- but over all issues to your well being. You got indicted or involved in Saturn-Saturn period.
- Venus is fair enough in the 9th bhava, and also connects to your 6th bhava lord. But from moon rules 5/12. Strong in d9. So mostly you would be protected and even if the judgment comes- it would not be harsh on you , it should be mostly mild.
- Venus sits on revati nakshatra and absorbs the energy of the 12 and also 3rd bhava, so this could cause some trouble to you but not much.
